The above Terms & Conditions are an essential part of our responsible obligations - to ensure that we provide a service which is not only enjoyable for all participants – but is also within a safe environment for everyone, including the visiting members of the public. As various health and safety regulations evolve within our society, our hosts and ourselves, are often under the legal obligation (or that on their Public Liability Insurance) to comply accordingly. Therefore it is important that we all adhere to these, and other host stipulations – so that we can all continue to enjoy all future club activities and events. Thank-you in anticipation for your understanding. The EYTCC Executive Committee. ☺
